SAN DIEGO NATURAL HISTORY MUSEUM

SATURDAY, APRIL 27, 2019

Dear Museum Friend,

We are excited to invite you to join the Museum's Gala Honorary Committee. Each year, our gala focuses on one aspect of our collections and research, and this spring, botany takes center stage with The Botany Bash on April 27, 2019!

We live in an incredibly diverse region and have collected more than 265,000 botanical specimens over the past 144 years. This invaluable collection provides a permanent record of our past and is a critical tool to better understand the present. And the more we learn about our region, the more we can do to protect it for the future. With active research projects throughout Southern California and the Baja California peninsula, the Museum is focused on protecting and preserving this amazing place we call home.

You can help make this work possible by sponsoring a wish-list item, purchasing tickets or a table, or making a contribution.

In recognition of your support and commitment to the Museum, your name will be listed in the event invitation, website, and program along with other dedicated donors. Please confirm your participation by January 25, 2019 and contact us with any questions at 619.255.0359 or gala@sdnhm.org.

We hope we can count on your involvement and look forward to celebrating with you on April 27!

Best regards,

Danielle Barger
